BUFF AND BLUE NINE WINS ONE AND LOSES TWO

Defeats Rochester 2-0; Douglas Allows But 2 Hits

LARRIES WIN, 13-2

Clarkson Also Defeats Hill Team On Northern Trip By 6—2 Score

After playing its best ball of the season to shut out Rochester, 2—0, Friday, the Hamilton baseball team took a two-day trip to St. Lawrence and Clarkson on Monday and Tuesday only to lose both games. St. Lawrence won easily, 13-2, but the Clarkson game, which ended 6-2, was close until the sixth inning, when the Engineers pounded Douglas for a trio of hits.

Ollikainen Doubles

Showing its best form of the season, the Buff and Blue took advantage of all possible breaks in the Rochester game Friday. Douglas' superb pitching held the Yellowjackets to but two hits, and the team supported him well throughout. It was the tightest game the team has played all season.

The last of the fourth was the only eventful inning. Stevens was walked and advanced to second on Crowley's sacrifice. Ollikainen doubled to left center, scoring Stevens. He went to third when Eggleston reached first on Erdle's wild throw. Eggleston drew a throw from Lines, Rochester pitcher, and dashed toward second. When the Rochester team started to play on him, Ollikainen scored, and Eggleston reached second as a play was made at the plate.

St. Lawrence Wins

The rest of the game was a pitcher's dual, five men on each team getting on base. A snappy double play, Ollikainen to Crowley to Fay, pulled Douglas out of the one dangerous position.

St. Lawrence, aided by nine Hamilton errors, had little trouble in downing the Continentals, 13-2, Monday afternoon. Coach Weber used four pitchers in an attempt to stem the barrage of the Larries' bats, but in all they pounded out 13 hits, as compared with four for the Buff and Blue.

Michelbeck did well on the mound for St. Lawrence, fanning fourteen, and allowing no hits after the third inning. A walk, a sacrifice, Ollikainen's triple, and Eggleston's single all in the first

Frederick [illegible] Sautter, '33, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Memorial Hospital in Utica on Saturday ,April 25, returned to the Hill Monday and resumed his classes yesterday.

Isadore Crade, '31, who underwent a similar operation at the Faxton Hospital on Thursday, May 7, has improved considerably during the past week. It is expected that he will return to the Hill sometime this weekend to prepare for the semester exams and for graduation.

SECOND ISSUE OF LIT APPEARS

Latest Number of Literary Magazine Displays Improvement

(By Herman F. Schliz, '33)

The latest number of the Hamilton Literary Magazine, which made its appearance on the Hill Monday evening, contains contributions submitted by eight undergraduate writers. Four of these contributors were recently elected to the board.

The longest story in this issue is that of John H. Wagenblass, '32. It is a short story entitled "A Shattered Idyll," a tale whose romantic setting is the Phillipine Islands. "Patterns of Sand," by Wheaton P. Webb, '33, is a story of an adolescent who "one day discovered a very big word and thereafter became a misogynist." Because of its shortness, the story is necessarily superficial, but it is all done with unusual facility.

Ringwood Contributes Article

"The Intellectual," by C. LaFayette Todd, is a highly imaginative and amusing portrayal of what happened to a philosopher who studied too much. It might almost be called a whimsical prologue to "The Grammarian's Funeral." Another story is "Runaway", by Wilmer E. Bresee, '31. It is well told, but would have been much better had its central character not been a beggar and had he not escaped from a poorhouse.

Perhaps the most notable contribution is that of Thomas Ringwood, a freshman of unusual ability. His article, "The Tin Bough", is an interesting study of religious fads which have had their vogue in this country. The writer says that it is neither necessary nor expedient to attempt to check the unconventional religious sects in this country, for "those cults which are harmful to the healthy social life of a nation are transitory; and as for the others, they not only supply the religious demands of a large portion of our population, but they do not have the deterent effect on our progress which the Latitudinarians ascribe to them."

Editor Writes Poem

The author of "Thursday" wishes for obvious reasons to remain anonymous. This is in the "train of consciousness" style of writing, and gives an account of how the writer passes a day. It never tries to be sensational, and

CHOIR RECITAL, VICTORIES IN TRACK, BASEBALL ENTERTAIN SPRING HOUSE PARTY GUESTS

Rochester Bows To Buff and Blue Nine, 2-0, and To Hill Runners, 107-24, Over Week-end

CHOIR REPEATS PROGRAM GIVEN IN NEW YORK

With three athletic contests and a recital by the College Choir as the feature entertainments over the weekend, the Hill played host to 268 girls at the annual spring House Parties.

Friday evening at nine o'clock in the Chapel the Choir repeated its New York concert for the guests, who received the singing with marked approval. Numbers in German, Latin, and English were sung, and a group of negro spirituals completed the varied program.

Tea Dances Held

Both the baseball and track teams were victorious, the Hill nine downing Rochester 2—0 Friday afternoon and the track squad competing against the Rochester runners in a steady downpour Saturday, turning in a 107-24 win. The golf team lost to Cornell, 6-0.

Both D. T. and Was Los held tea dances Saturday afternoon following the track meet, the fomer at Sigma Phi Place and the latter at the Alpha Delta Phi Hall.

Theta Delts Have Cabaret

Friday night saw the usual open houses with upperclassmen, alumni, and guests visiting. The rule passed some time ago by the Interfraternity Council regulating the traveling of guests underwent its first test with no apparent violations.

Saturday evening the customary closed dances were held with numerous forms of entertainment at the various houses. The Theta Delts converted the house into a cabaret, employing entertainers from Utica.

PI DELT TAPS EIGHT NEW MEN

Six Juniors, Two Sophomores Pledged By Journalistic Fraternity

At the annual spring pledging of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, which took place yesterday, six juniors and two sophomores were tapped by the organization. The men pledged are Jack W. Hummer, '32, John H. Mangan, '32, Donald M. Cunningham, '32, Clifford A. Lewis, '32, Douglas H. Batten, '32, Merle E. Schoepflin, '32, Howard C. Hosmer, '33, and Philip Schleit, '33.

Three of the men, Cunningham, Lewis, and Batten, failed to satisfy the requirements of six points but were voted in unanimously as provided under the rules of the society.

Hummer is editor-in-chief of the 1935 Freshman "Handbook" and assistant editor of Hamilton Life. He is managing editor of the 1932 "Hamiltonian", assistant manager of basketball, and has been on the Life board for two years. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

Schleit, also a member of Alpha Delta Phi, is on the staff of Life, was elected business manager for the "Hamiltonian" next year, and plays on the tennis team.

Mangan was recently elected editor-in-chief of the "Royal Gaboon" to succeed James W. Moore, '31. He is a member of the "Handbook" and "Hamiltonian" boards and is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Hosmer is the editor-in-chief of the 1933 "Hamiltonian". He has served on Hamilton Life and on the Press Board and was recently

CHOIR RECITAL WELL RECEIVED

Unusual Program of Classic Compositions Pleases Large Audience

Opening the House Party festivities on the Hill, the Hamilton College Choir rendered an unusual program of vocal selections in its recital in the Chapel Friday evening. The concert, which included numbers chosen from the best of those on the annual spring tour, was enthusiastically received by the students and their guests who evoked several encores in addition to the regular program.

Following the first group, which consisted of "Zion hort die Wachter singen", "Ave Maria" and "Lob Gottes',' the Choir gave the popular, "Lo How a Rose". The next group included another "Ave Maria" and the well known song "Hospodi Pomilu".

The first "Pilgrims Chorus" from Tanhauser and Jerusalem by Pavvy made up the third group and the last group consisted entirely of negro spirituals which have proved so popular both on the spring tour and in their former presentations on the Hill.

The audience, which filled the Chapel to capacity, was composed of Hill students and their House Party guests, faculty members and their wives, and local followers of the Choir.

Delta Sigma Rho Pledges Six Men

Six members will be added to the Hamilton Chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, as a result of the annual spring tapping. Three seniors and three juniors will be given membership in the group in reward for work done in intercollegiate debates.

The men who were pledged last week are: Henry B. Hobart, Albert C. Redmond, and Latimer B. Senior, all '31, and Samuel J. Holt, John W. Howard, and John J. Walsh, all '31.

FINAL ISSUE OF GABOON APPEARS

Spring House Party Number Features Art Work of Barlow and Payne

The Spring House Party issue of the Royal Gaboon, the largest number to be published in several years made its appearance at the various houses Friday evening. The attractive cover, done in black and silver, was the work of Scott Barlow, ex-'33, who also contributed a number of other drawings. Other contributors to the Gaboon with sketches were Charles S. Payne, '32, the art editor, Morey Eames, '32, and Odin Fredman, '32.

Two feature stories, "Hermione—A Debutante", and "A Matter of Life and Death," both unsigned, comprised most of the writing done by Hamilton men. The usual "Runs About the Town" section, the review of current movies of merit, and a collection of excellent exchanges, made up the remainder of the issue.

Five seniors, James W. Moore, Editor, Charles S. Symonds, Robert Musial, Harold J. Conger, and Robert W. Cruser, sever their connections with the Royal Gaboon with the Spring Party issue. John H. Mangan, Jr., and C. Ingals Fisher will edit the Gaboon next year.

Cast Chosen For Commencement Play

The cast for the annual Commencement play, to be given by the Charlatans on Friday evening, June 12, has been selected, and rehearsals are already under way for the production. The play chosen for presentation is "The Pigeon," by John Galsworthy.

The piece is an excellent one for amateurs, for it is completely lacking in "stock" characters. The central character is a philanthropist who collects about him a motley crowd of needy folk.

The women's roles are being taken by Mrs. W. J .S. Doolittle, who is prominent in the Players' Club of Utica, and by Miss Alice Symonds of New Hartford.

The following is the cast of characters: Christopher Wellivyn, C. S. Symonds; Ann, his daughter, Miss Alice Symonds; Guinevere Megan, Mrs. W. J. S. Doolittle; Rory Megan, her husband, H. B. White; Ferrand, an alien, W. G. Roehrick, Jr.; Timson, a cabman, J. H. Jones; Edward Bertley, a Canon, John Walsh; Alfred Calway, a professor, Arthur H. Stein; Sir Thomas Hoxton, a Justice of the Peace, Samuel J. Holt; A Constable, Michael J. Timko; Three Humble Men, C. D. Cowles, R. L. Fay, J. W. Howard.

ANNUAL SPRING MEETING HELD

Award Letters At Gathering of College Body In Chapel Thursday

The annual spring meeting of the Undergraduate Association was called in the College Chapel Thursday to award letters and numerals for winter sports. This was the first meeting under the new plan for dispensing with the business of the Undergraduate Association between 8:00 and 8:30 by advancing morning Chapel

Twenty-nine letters were awarded, 13 in hockey, 9 in basketball, and 7 in fencing. In addition 21 block numerals were given to freshmen and 35 plain numerals awarded. Captains' sweaters were given to Robert L. Wilson for hockey and to Francis J. Crowley for basketball.

Award Ski Metals

An amendment was unanimously carried which provides for the award of an "H" in hockey to a goalie who participated in one-third of the games played. The constitution formerly set one-half of the games as the limit.

The Dekes received a cup for winning the interfraternity basketball tournament last winter, and the trophy for the ski-racing championship was awarded to the Alpha Delts. Medals were presented to Willis Rayton, '31, and James Hughes, '31, individual winners.

The special award of a letter to W. L. Polhemus in fencing was approved. The awards follow:

Block letter in hockey: Captain Wilson, Stevens, Corwin, Hughes, Redmond, Eames, Wettlaufer, Dixon, Crumb, Sellers, Scagel, Heyl, and Manager Edwards.

BUFF AND BLUE TRACK TEAM SWAMPS ROCHESTER, 107-24, CAPTURING 13 FIRST PLACES

Pritchard, Ruland, and Jones Each Take Two Events; High Hurdles Only First Won By University of Rochester

With three men turning in double victories, Hamilton revealed its full strength in track Saturday afternoon, taking 13 first places in 14 events to swamp the University of Rochester runners, 107-24.

Pritchard, with victories in the mile and two mile runs, Ruland with two first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and Jones with winning heaves in both weight events, contributed largely to the Hamilton victory.

Sprinting the 100 in 10.4 seconds and the 220 in 23 seconds flat, Ruland returned to form Saturday for the first time this season. He had previously suffered from stomach trouble and had not won a first place in outdoor track before Saturday.

Ruland Wins 100 and 220

Hamilton's total was swelled considerably by the acquisition of eight second places. One event, the pole vault, was run off with no Rochester entrants. The competition was stopped at 7 feet, with Kingsley, Martin, Jayne, and sprague of Hamilton all tied. There was no further activity in this event because of the possibility of accidents due to the steady rain.

Ruland started for the Buff and Blue with a victory in the 100 yard dash over a soft track dotted with numerous puddles. Captain Corwin of Hamilton took third with Morrisey of Rochester in second place. These three sprinters finished in the same order in the 220.

Pritchard Wins Distances

Pritchard, running easily, won the mile in 4:37.2 and showed no let down in the form by which he set a new mile record for Hamilton and Union meets a week ago Saturday. Campbell took second place in the mile, with Wolslegel Rochester runner who was highly rated in indoor competition, third. Pritchard's second victory of the afternoon was secured in the two mile run, which he won in 10:32.9, under wraps. These two victories marked the completion of eight consecutive victories in four meets for Pritchard this season, including the Rochester indoor meet.

In winning the 220-low hurdles from Schauman, Rochester hurdle star, Bellatty neared the Hamilton record of 25.7 seconds set by Ford, '30. The Hamilton sophomore's time Saturday was 26.2 seconds in the rain over a puddle-bedecked stretch. Bellatty took second in a quarter mile race that was all

TRACK TEAM TO DEFEND TITLE

Five Squads Will Compete In Conference Meet At Rochester

Hamilton will defend its 1930 New York State Intercollegiate Athletic Conference track championship against Alfred, St. Lawrence, Rochester, and Hobart at Rochester's new field Saturday. The Buff and Blue outfit will be forced to the limit to retain the title, with Alfred figured to give Hamilton plenty of opposition in track events as well as in the field.

Hobart, renewing track this season, is entering a team, but Hamilton probably need not fear the Geneva athletes threats. Rochester and St. Lawrence appear to be quite evenly matched, and since Hamilton swept Rochester so completely off its feet on Saturday it becomes more apparent that Alfred will be the team for Hamilton to beat in order to retain the championship.

Twenty-Five To Make Trip

Alfred defeated Rochester, 96-35, at Alfred several weeks ago and Rochester opened its new field and track with a 67-64 victory against St. Lawrence. From present indications, Alfred is much stronger in the distance and middle distance runs that it was a year ago. Hamilton, however, appears to have a slight edge in the field events.

Coach Winters plans to take a squad of about 25 men to the Flower City. Sprinters and hurdlers will leave Friday night in order to be on hand for the trials in their events on Saturday morning. Gordon Fischer, veteran hurdler and broad jumper, will compete. The performances of George Ruland in the sprints against Rochester here Saturday were encouraging, since his speed had been cut down considerably in the earlier meets because of stomach trouble.

Every point will count considerably in the meet and Hamilton will be fully represented in all events.

At an important meeting of the Newman Club after Chapel Friday morning, plans were made for a final business meeting of the Club to be held Thursday evening at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house. At this time arrangements are to be completed for a Communion Breakfast which is to take place in the Clinton Lyceum, Sunday.

CLASSES WILL SING TUESDAY

Annual Interclass Singing Contest To Feature "Oh Hamilton"

The date of the annual interclass singing contest has been set for Tuesday evening, May 26, at 9 o'clock. Each class will group together that night with the seniors in front of the Hall of Languages, the juniors before the Library, the sophomores near the Hall of Philosophy, and the freshmen at the Hall of Science.

Each class is to sing "Oh Hamilton" and two other songs chosen by the respective groups. The seniors who are under the direction of John H. Jones, will sing "We Come to Hang Our Banners" and "In Those Dear Old College Days". The Class of '32 will offer "Fair Hamilton" and one other song yet to be chosen. Robert G. Phelps has been selected song leader for this class. The sophomores will sing "Gather Close Ye Boys and Men" and one other under the leadership of James T. Heyl. The first year men, who have Gardner Smith as their leader, are going to sing "We're Here To Cheer Dear Old Hamilton" and "Down, Down the Field."

After each class has sung its individual songs, all the classes will gather before the Chapel and hear the announcement of the winning class. Professors A. P. Saunders, Paul A. Fancher, and Berrian R. Shute will be the judges.

University of Rochester Administration Abolishes Interclass Hazing and "Riding"

Following the lead of many of the colleges of the east, the University of Rochester handed down a ruling Monday by which all interclass rivalry must come to an end.

The Traditions Committee of the men's college ruled that class fights, "riding", and hazing in general constitute a "nuisance" which "interferes with scholastic work and misleads the public as to the interests of college students." Having ended hostilities for this year the committee has appealed to the next Tradition Committee, to the students, and to the administration to test the new policy.

The small number of students interested and the serious injuries that have happened in the past are given by the committee as reasons for the change. Freshman camp and interclass sports now serve the purpose of upholding the spirit of the classes.

According to previous plans, rivalry would have been resumed Wednesday afternoon, with "riding" permitted to begin at that time after a week's truce. In former years competition has taken the nature of mob fighting, especially on Proc Night in early September and on the occasion of the annual Flag Rush.

The alternatives of retaining the old-style events such as Proc Night and the Flag Rush, and of modifying the events to make them "safe and inoffensive" found little favor with the committee, which was also influenced by correspondence with other colleges indicating a concerted tendency toward the abolition of all class conflicts.

Contrary to general belief, this action was started by the members of the committee and not by the administration officials.

Yale Professor Attempts To Justify Action of Faculty To Abolish Latin

An attempt to justify the step taken recently by Yale University when they abandoned Latin and Greek as required subjects for the A. B. degree has been made by the chairman of the committee which forced the faculty to relinquish the tenet to which they had clung for so many years. Clive Day, professor of Political Economics at Yale, in an article in the New York "Times" reported the findings of the committee which caused the faculty to take the necessary steps after several years debate.

According to Professor Day the motion to make the year of Latin optional has been on the books of the permanent officers of the University since 1922, but complete action has been postponed until this year. Active steps to determine the value of the language were first taken in 1929 when a committee was appointed to determine which of the students, those with Latin or those without it, were most successful in post graduate work. The test revealed a "significant and consistent superiority" of the men who had gained the A. B. degree in college. The men were, on the whole, younger in graduation and gained more honors in their courses.

Recently, however, the proponents of the plan intrusted to a statistician the compilation of figures which should prove that the students who took the Latin course were not helped by the instruction gained in this subject. The man, ignoring the cultural background which this subject gave for such subjects as French, History, and Geology, prepared a report which compared marks of various students and apparently proved that those taking Latin were not as well prepared as those who were not enrolled in the Latin courses.

A COMMENDABLE MOVE

The recent commendable decision of the Executive Council of the Undergraduate Association whereby the assistant athletic managers will be asked to submit their lists of choices at the conclusion of the annual managerial competition wipes out one of the main objections to the present election system. This undesirable feature, which was pointed out in this column several months ago, was that heretofore too much weight has been given to the decisions of the retiring managers because they have little connection with the scrub managers during the year. It is the assistant managers who assign the competitors their duties at home contests and supervise their work at practice sessions.

The announcement, that the Executive Council will request the assistant managers to list their choices just as the senior managers and the coaches have done in the past predicts a more thorough consideration of the merits of each competitor and a final selection of a list of managers which will be more indicative of the merits and capabilities of the respective candidates than has been the case in the past.

The Council reserves the right to give as much or as little consideration to the selections of the assistant managers as it thinks necessary. We suggest that the members of the Council place more emphasis on the lists submitted by the junior managers than on those of the senior managers for, after all, the assistant managers come into much closer contact with the competitors than the seniors do. The junior managers supervise the work of the competitors at the intercollegiate contests held on the Hill, at the interclass and interfraternity games, and at the various practice sessions. The senior managers are occupied with the more important business of attending to the procedure of the contests themselves and really know little of the quality and quantity of the work done by the managerial candidates.

Dramatic Class To Give Plays Friday

Under the direction of Professor Paul A. Fancher the Dramatic Interpretation class will present three one-act plays in the Hall of Commons Friday at 8:15 o'clock. Trustees, faculty members, and undergraduates are invited to attend.

The three plays to be offered are: Harold Chapin's "Augustus in "Search of a Father", with Robert Phelps, William Sloane, and John J. Walsh in the cast; "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler", by W. W. Jacobs, with John H. J. Payne, Charles S. Payne, Theodore Harwood, Samuel Holt, Arthur Stein, John Wagenblass, and John Walsh playing; and "A Scarlet Thread", with Waterman Baldwin, Douglass Batten, Samuel Holt, Henry Maijgren, Crawford Wettlaufer, and Albert K. White in the cast.

Rochester Coach Praises Pritchard

Frank H. Gordon, varsity track coach at the University of Rochester, paid high tribute to the record breaking performance of Walter H. Pritchard, Hamilton distance ace, in his sensational mile run in the Union meet two weeks ago. Gordon, in speaking to his U. of R. team before the Hamilton meet here Saturday, said of Pritchard: "Pritchard of Hamilton ran against Union last Saturday and won the mile in 4 minutes, 22.7 seconds. This is one of the five fastest miles run this season in the whole United States. Practically no man in the state can defeat Pritchard in his specialty."

FERRY STRESSES COLLEGE NEEDS

President Addresses Torch Club, Also Speaks At Buffalo

"The colleges of today are not fulfilling their duty of training men for a wise use of an ever-increasing leisure," said President Frederick C. Ferry, '17 at a meeting of the Torch Club at Hotel Utica last Monday. At the meeting nominations were received for the officers for the coming year and Joseph D. Ibbotson, '90, Hamilton College librarian, was nominated for the position of director

Dr. Ferry lectured on "Is Education Meeting Our Modern Needs?" He said he believed that the problem of creating an educational system to prepare a man to make the best use of his leisure is important and if solved may prevent our western culture from perishing under the weight of our industrial and commercial affairs, and our arts from yielding place entirely to games and pastimes.

Machine Age Ruins Higher Life

"If the large place left vacant by the absence of necessary work may be filled with some suitable intellectual interest or refining influence, a better and finer culture may result. Otherwise, the onward march of the machine age may spell the ruin of our higher life by giving us an enlarged leisure with which we know not what to do. Effectively to teach that wise, useful, and intelligent use of the free hours becomes one of the greatest needs which education has ever been asked to meet."

Dr. Ferry reviewed the tendencies of contemporary experimental education to which he finds parents ready to sacrifice their children. Universities which offer with equal credit towards a degree "Homer or 'fundamental problems in clothing'; the language of Dante or 'food etiquette and hospitality'; and biology or 'practical poultry raising'" he treated in a humerous manner declaring that they were exercising a "breach of trust."

Teachers Must Satisfy Pupils

"The old fashioned studies tended to provoke thought and brought the pupil into contact with the work of intellect. The new ones afford the means of acquiring skill —such as the shop and provide more effectively. The youth who is engaged in trade or industry after college is robbed of his one best opportunity in life of acquainting himself with cultural subjects if they are replaced with the tricks of the trade in his undergraduate years."

He also expressed contempt for those educational theorists who feel that the ideal educational system must spurn "marks, grades and degrees."

"Under the earlier system," he said, "it had been the duty of the pupils to satisfy the teachers, now it has become the part of the teachers to satisfy the pupils. The severer courses, which had provided discipline along with learning were either softened greatly in the hope of avoiding extinction or were withdrawn from lack of numbers." This charge was addressed against the undue extension of the elective system.

Also Speaks In Buffalo

President Ferry also delivered three addresses inBuffalo Friday, all of which dealt with particular phases of education. Dr. Ferry spoke before the Lincoln Club at luncheon, talked over the radio in the afternoon, and addressed the Buffalo chapter of the Torch Club in the evening.

"An argument for scholarship" was the title of President Ferry's radio address which was delivered over the Buffalo Evening News station WBEN, Friday afternoon.

President Ferry addressed a banquet of the New England Association of Hamilton Alumni at the University Club in Boston Thursday evening.

Calls White-Collar Graduates Menace

According to a formal mandate issued by the Minister of Education at Nanking, China, white-collar graduates of Chinese schools and universities are a menace to the good of the community. The mandate deplores the fact that "the prevailing attitude of students and graduates, is that they are entitled to comforts and luxuries because of their education" and that it states that the present educational system will continue to be a failure so long as educated men are unwilling to undertake manual labor, "and join the rank and file."

it is probably this fact that places it well above the average.

"The Perfumes of Arabia" is the title of a story by William Sloane. The style is excellent, but the narrative often fails to hold interest. The editor, Robert W. Cruser is represented by a short poem, "Strange Fit." The verse form is at times unusual and stimulating.

It is announced that the next issue of the Lit will appear in the near future. The present delay has been caused by a dearth of material. Contributions may be given to the editor at Emerson Hall.

RUNNERS REPEAT OVER ROCHESTER

Hamilton's from the start. This event was won by Denman in 53.5 seconds, another worthy accomplishment considering the conditions prevaliing.

Jones Wins Discus, Shot Put

Rochester finally came through with a first place in the high hurdles event, which was won by Schauman in 17.6 seconds. Stewart and Morrow took second and third, respectively. Sprague of Hamilton took a third in the 220 low hurdles, in which Schauman was the only Rochester man to score.

Hamilton's superiority in the track events was strongly seconded by its performance in the field. Symond's javelin throw of 151 feet, 1 1-2 inches marked his third straight victory in that event. Eames took second place. Maynard Jones exceeded his own best previous shot put with a heave of 39 feet, 3 inches and also hurled the discus 112 feet 9 inches to better his own best previous mark in this event. Ayres, of Hamilton, took second in both these events with Estabrook third in the shot put and Kappelman of Rochester third in the discus.

Puglisi won the broad jump with 20 feet, 1 1-2 inches as the winning distance and Kingsley and Jayne of Hamilton divided a first place in the high jump, this event not going over 5 feet, 2 inches.

Not the least of Hamilton's track victories was the half-mile win of Rawson, sophomore 880 man, who turned in his third victory of the season, including the indoor meet. Poppe of Hamilton was second in the half mile.

The mile relay, run by White, Jensen, Bellatty and Denman, went to Hamilton by a wide margin in 3 minutes, 41.3 seconds.

SPORTS COMMENT

Hamilton will enter the Conference track meet this week-end a decided favorite. The team has shown strength throughout the season, especially in the two last meets. Gordon Fischer, who has been out of all the meets except Union on account of a broken arch, is expected to run the high hurdles. If he can round into form in time, this will give the Buff and Blue an opportunity to collect some extra points in an event in which it has been weak all season. Alfred will provide plenty of competition, however, and will be dangerous if any of the Hamilton men are not in the best of condition.

The Hamilton ball team looked good Friday when it shut out Rochester 2-0. Douglas pitched a fine game, allowing but two hits. Only five men on each team reached first, but timely hitting and clever base-running gave the edge to the Buff and Blue.

HAMILTON NINE WINS ONE AND LOSES TWO

inning, accounted for the only Hamilton tallies.

Douglas started pitching against Clarkson on Tuesday and was effective until the sixth inning, when two runs were scored on three hits, a walk, and a sacrifice. He allowed two more runs in the next inning after one was out. Eggleston relieved him, but Clarkson tallied two more before the side was retired.

Hamilton scored one in the third inning without making a hit. Hits by Ollikainen and Eggleston after two were out in the ninth accounted for the other Continental run.

Plan To Revive Hamilton Mirror

After a consideration of the possibilities of making a success of the Hamilton "Mirror", the the board of that publication has decided to revive it next year and has chosen William A. Monacelli, '32, as the new editor.

Irving Gellman is the only other member of last year's editorial staff who will be continued on the board. Clarence Frank, '33, who was a member of last year's business staff will act as one of the several junior business managers from whom a business manager will be chosen sometime next year. One or two members of the present freshman class will be chosen to assist with the publication next fall.

Plans are being made for the publication of three or four issues of the "Mirror" next year. The first number will appear at the annual fall House Party and the next will probably be published on the occasion of the Hamilton-Union football game in November. The "Mirror" was not published at all this year because the general business depression made it difficult to obtain advertisements.

College Superior To Normal Schools

According to a study made recently by Paul V. Sangren of Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo, Mich., and described by him in "School and Society", teacher's colleges and normal schools fare poorly in a comparison of the scholastic attainments of their faculties with that of university and college faculties in general.

He states that the proportion of members of all faculties in institutions of higher learning who are on the staffs of the teachers colleges and normal schools is 17.4 percent of the total, but the distinctions achieved according to his measurements fall far below that figure.

Freshmen Answer Managership Call

Candidates for next year's scrub managership were called out yesterday morning after Chapel, 14 freshmen signifying their intention of competing next year.

Fewer than usual were enrolled, a score or more candidates customarily turning out. However, another call will be issued during the first week after the fall term starts. Those who have been enrolled must be approved by the Executive Council.

The freshmen who reported to the secretary of the Executive Council are Donlely, Allen, C. S. Miller, Yelton, Buck, Fitter, Jessup, Neff, Van Santvoord, Taylor, Love, Lewis, Dreher, and Miner.

FROSH DEFEAT JUNIORS

Running up a score of 11-2, the freshmen easily beat the juniors in mushball Monday afternoon. The interclass sports have been seriously hampered by rain but with this game they are under way again. The remaining inter-class golf and tennis matches are to be played as soon as possible. No class team has yet completed its schedule in tennis and golf.

THOMPSON, '12, WRITES BOOK

Work Is Account of Henry MacKenzie, Esq., Scott, and Burns

Harold W. Thompson, '12, is the author of a new book entitled "A Scottish Gentleman of Feeling", which is an account of Henry Mackenzie, Esq., of Edinburg and of the golden age of Scott and Burns.

The New York "Times" says of Mr. Thompson's work, "The outstanding merit of this book is its tone. It is a red-letter day for American scholarship when an academic book dealing with an alien literature, fulfilling all the rigorous requirements of research, can be written with liveliness and humor." The reviewer continues by stating that Mr. Thompson's knowledge of the subject is invariably exhaustive and accurate.

Mr. Thompson says that this is the first attempt made by anyone to account for the literature of the Scottish golden age which produced David Hume, Robert Burns, and Sir Walter Scott. He said in his "Anecdotes and Egotisms of Henry Mackenzie", published in 1927: "Born in 1745, served as a literary page to the coterie of David Hume; became the most popular British novelist of the decade; wrote the best essays and short tales of the century in Scotland; recognized the genius of Burns, started the career of Walter Scott, encouraged Byron, was the Nestor of Scottish letters, saw the rise of the Edinburg Review and Blackwood's." Mackenzie's "The Man of Feeling" remains one of the lesser classics of the eighteenth century.

Harold W. Thompson is a member of the Emerson Literary Society and of Phi Beta Kappa. He was valedictorian of the class of 1912.

NIGHT AND A FAST TRACK!
A TRACK man will tell you that records are broken when the track is fast. Think of this setting—a cool evening, the stands overflowing, the whole spectacle brilliantly lighted with G-E floodlights, and a fast track—a record simply couldn't stand the "gaff."
Nighttime, when people naturally turn to diversion, is the logical time for a track meet. Lack of support will be a thing of the past. And just watch the athletic fund grow.
G-E floodlighting projectors, largely the development of college-trained men, are easily adapted to any occasion whether football, track, tennis, commencement, receptions, or plays. Efficient G-E illumination promotes athletics and builds school spirit.

ALEXANDER TO COACH U. OF R.

Popular Mentor Succeeds To Post Vacated By Union Director

Officials of the University of Rochester recently announced the appointment of Louis A. Alexander of Storrs, Conn., as head coach in football and baseball. Alexander succeeds G. Elliott Hatfield, who was recently added to the physical education department at Union.

The newcomer to the Rochester campus has an enviable record both as a coach and player in the sports. He was graduated from the Connecticut Agricultural College in 1923 with the reputation of being the best all-around man that had represented Storrs in athletics in several years. After his graduation he was appointed to the post of coach of the freshman teams in football, basketball, and baseball.

Unusual success with these teams won him a position as head basketball coach. Last year in absence of the regular football mentor, he handled the squad and this season he is drilling the baseball nine. With several years' work at Columbia he will receive his master's degree from that institution this June. The New York institution has also engaged him as head of the basketball coaching staff for his year's session. Alexander heads the New England Association of Basketball Coaches, and will assume his duties with the Yellowjackets in September.

CORNELL GOLFERS WIN OVER HILL TEAM, 6-0

Hamilton Linksmen Are Defeated By Ithaca Group In Third Match Of Season

The Hamilton golf team dropped its third match of the season to Cornell here Friday afternoon, losing, 6-0, to the well-balanced Ithaca team. Neither team flashed sensational golf, the only semblance of good competition occurring in the first foursome, where Captain Bannerman lost to Bliss of Cornell, 3 down and 2 to go, and Mead, Hamilton, second man, gav Letcher a stiff battle only to lose, 1 down. Bliss and Letcher defeated Bannerman and Mead, 5 up and 4 to go in their best ball competition.

Persons defeated Dixon, Hamilton third man, 6 and 5, while Wettlaufer of Hamilton lost out to Pierson on Cornell, 6 and 4. Wettlaufer and Dixon lost their best ball match by 7 and 6.

The teams will meet again on Saturday at the Country Club of Ithaca.

IN congratulating the winners in the great Camel contest we want at the same time to thank most cordially the approximately million men and women who displayed their friendly interest by sending in an entry.

We wish also to thank the millions of smokers throughout the country for the appreciation they are showing for our new Humidor Pack as is evidenced by the notable increase in the sale of Camel cigarettes.

By means of this dust-proof, germ-proof, moisture-proof Cellophane wrapping the rich aroma and full flavor of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos have been air-sealed in Camels for your enjoyment.

If you have not tried Camels in the Humidor Pack all we ask is that you switch over to this brand for one day.

After you have learned how much milder, how much cooler, how much more enjoyable it is to smoke a perfectly conditioned fresh cigarette, go back to the harsh hotness of stale cigarettes if you can.
